USA Today's 2016 College Football preseason Top 25 rankings. Rankings based on schedule strength. Download Times New Arabic FontCheat engine - Cheat tool for Windows. across the country - the African-American female, the gay male, the unemployed worker and the immigrant - they all march in one single, unified mass. The way that the different groups claim their own distinctiveness through the common us, the way that the different factions of the 99% march - all of that is the result of the fact that all of us are united by the fact that we are at the bottom. This is an economy that gives a tiny minority of the population access to resources that the vast majority of the population of the world do not share. So I'm not just talking about the conditions of poverty - this is the entire society we live in. This is the society that slaughters the rainforest for lumber to build skyscrapers, that sacrifices the oceans for the profit of multinational corporations. This is a society that starves its people while its elite enjoy gourmet meals on a billionaire scale. It is these structural injustices that create the challenges facing the 99%. Because in a world run by the elite, in a society that is dominated by the 1%, access to resources and jobs is no longer something that we all experience in the same way, and so we find ourselves at odds with one another. Many among us have come to think of ourselves as victims. And we are all victims - of this injustice, of this inequality, of the human condition in general. We all know what it is like to experience first-hand the reality of the oppression and deprivation that too often become our daily reality. And we are right to feel, rightly, to feel a sense of victimization - the global bankers are a group of rich people who have benefited from a system of inherited privilege and economic power. They create wars and manipulate our leaders into giving up our basic freedoms. And when we organise against them, and their corporate partners, we are a threat to the very system of capital that creates the oppression in the first place. And so they're looking for ways to divide and conquer us. They go to school boards and make sure there is a Tea Party for black
